Introduction

This is the second annual edition of Selected Financial and Related Data for California Public Schools. This edition includes several new tables presenting information on:

-Adult Education Revenue Limits
-Regional Occupational Centers and Programs
-County Offices of Education
-The Master Plan for Special Education

The addition of these tables, which were requested by users of the first edition, is intended to make Selected Financial and Related Data more useful and represents the first step in our continuing commitment to expand this publication into a comprehensive source document for those who need accurate school finance data presented in a summary format. We invite your suggestions and comments on how this publication might be expanded or improved and request that they be directed to:

Most of the financial statistics displayed in this publication are for fiscal year 1984-85 or show 1984-85 as the most recent year in a multi-year table. This is because 1984-85 was the most recent year for which we have complete (as opposed to estimated) data. The "books" are just now closing on fiscal year 1985-86, and this information will be reported to the Department during the coming year for inclusion in next year's Selected Financial and Related Data.

Fiscal year 1983-84 was the first year of implementation for Senate Bill 813, the Hughes-Hart Educational Reform Act of 1983; therefore, from the data shown in the tables, the reader may discern the initial fiscal impact of this sweeping reform measure. Since a number of the reforms and programs established by Senate Bill 813 were first implemented in 1984-85, the full financial impact of SB 813 is not reflected in 1983-84 revenues and expenditures. Certain SB 813 programs, such as the phased expansion of instructional time, will not be fully funded until 1986-87; therefore, the reader is cautioned to avoid premature analysis regarding the fiscal effect of SB 813.

The financial data contained in this document were compiled from annual financial reports submitted to the Department by local educational agencies (Forms J-41, J-41A, J-73, and J-73A). Every effort was made to ensure that the reports of all active California school districts and county offices of education were included in this summary. This information is, however, only as accurate as the data received; and the reader should note that this information had not been audited at the local or state level by the time it was received. The general, nonfinancial data contained in this document were derived from a number of different reports also submitted by local agencies.

Classifications of income and expenditures used in this statistical report are in accordance with the California School Accounting Manual unless otherwise noted. For more detailed financial data derived from the same source documents, the reader may wish to consult the Annual Report of Financial Transactions Concerning School Districts and Community College Districts of California, which is published for each fiscal year by the State Controller.

Part I
General Statistics

The tables displayed in Part I of this document present general or demographic information which, although relevant to school finance, is not strictly financial data. Information on the number and type of California school districts and schools is intended to provide the reader with an appreciation of the size of California's educational system from kindergarten through grade 12. Information on enrollment and average daily attendance (ADA) adds to the understanding of size while providing the reader with the basic workload statistics which are most frequently used for distribution of funds. Additional information on the length of the school year and the numbers and average salaries of staff is particularly relevant to school reform initiatives that seek to increase instructional time, avert potential teacher shortages, and reduce class size. These tables present only the most summary basic data and are by no means exhaustive of the available general information. For additional general statistics, the reader may wish to consult the Department publication entitled Selected Education Statistics, California Public and Private Schools.

Most of the information in Part I was compiled from the California Basic Educational Data System (CBEDS) and has not been audited or otherwise verified. The average daily attendance (ADA) used in these tables is "annual" data which may be compiled before local audits are completed for all districts. The reader should note that CBEDS's data are annually collected in October and are, therefore, "point-in-time" information as contrasted with "annual average" data such as ADA. This means that ADA may exceed enrollment when a net increase in enrollments occurs after October.

In future editions of Selected Financial and Related Data, the Department may include new tables of general statistics reflecting concerns appropriate to the time of publication.

Note: Enrollment figures are as of October for all fiscal years, whereas average daily attendance figures are cumulative from July 1 through June 30. Since enrollment data exclude certain pupil categories, the same categories are excluded from the a.d.a. data in order to make valid comparisons. The excluded a.d.a categories are adult education, ROC/P, summer school, extended year programs, special education for nonpublic schools, and state hospital students in special day classes. Both statistics include county office attendance, excluding tuition fund a.d.a. and the categories listed above. Because of these exclusions, the data in this table will not compare with that of other a.d.a. tables in this document.

In 1984-85 there were 1,029 school districts. There were 25 schools that had approval to operate a different number of days than did the rest of the schools in their districts because of emergency conditions or other considerations. Five of these schools fell into the "Less than 175" category. Data entry guidelines for attendance documents make it necessary to report the data for these schools as separate districts for this table.

Note: "Averages" displayed in this table are simple mean averages which may be significantly affected over time by hiring practices that accentuate one end of the range. For example, the hiring of a large number of new teachers at the first step of the range will tend to reduce the average, while a clustering of senior teachers at the top end of the range may inflate the average.

Part II
Income

Public school income is derived from local, state, and federal sources and is often characterized by source. While most income may also be considered revenue, there are some nonrevenue sources of income. The reader should consult Part III of the California School Accounting Manual for the definitions of terms that are used in these tables of revenues and expenditures.

The tables and displays of Part II provide summary aggregate data for all public school districts and county offices of education in California as reported to the Department of Education. The reader is cautioned to carefully examine the descriptions of the data on each table. For example, tables 3, 4, 5, and 8 contain information pertinent only to local general funds, including individual districts' General Funds and County School Service Funds. Local general funds should not be confused with the State General Fund, from which most state appropriations are made. Local general funds may include income from state, local, and federal sources, including income provided for general or specified purposes (both basic and categorical). Local general funds do not include income to other local funds, a listing of which may be found in Table II-6.

Several tables in Part II refer to revenue limits which are described in the note under Table II-15. Composed of both state and local general purpose revenues, the revenue limit is the single most important element of school finance in California.

In addition, state income includes the school district textbook credit and the state contribution to the State Teachers Retirement Fund, and federal income includes the value of commodities donated by the Department of Agriculture.

[1/] Districts' "County Income" category is considered local income.

[2/] Income classified as "Combined Federal and State Income" is included in state income.

*$100 standard applicable in 1974-75, adjusted for California Consumer Price Index
Projected from 1984-85 second principal revenue limit data

Note: The data in table II-15 are the bases for tables II-16 through II-22. These tables chart the base revenue limit closure for school districts categorized as small elementary (less than 101 a.d.a.), large elementary (more than 100 a.d.a.), small high school (less than 301 a.d.a.), large high school (more than 300 a.d.a.), small unified (less than 1,501 a.d.a), large unified (more than 1,500 a.d.a.), and all districts combined.

The revenue limit was introduced in the early 1970's in response to the original "Serrano" decision. Prior to 1972, school districts' revenues for general operating purposes varied dramatically. The California Supreme Court upheld a lower court finding that these variations related to local property wealth and constituted an unconstitutional violation of pupils' rights to equal educational opportunities. The Legislature responded to the Serrano decision by establishing base revenue limits per a.d.a. for all school districts on the basis of districts' then-current funding levels and by providing for closure among base revenue limits per a.d.a. over time. An examination of Table II-22 reveals that 50.7 percent of the students (as shown by the state's a.d.a. figures) were enrolled in school districts having base revenue limits per unit of a.d.a. within $100 of one another in 1974-75. By 1985-86, 94.8 percent of the students were in school districts having base revenue limits per a.d.a. within $221 of one another; i.e., the $100 standard applied in 1974-75 adjusted for inflation as measured by the California Consumer Price Index.

Part III
Expenditures

Public school agencies' budgeting and accounting systems include a variety of funds; but the General Fund is common to all operating districts, and the equivalent County School Service Fund is common to all county offices of education. This section stresses expenditures of these "general" funds, but Table III-15 also presents expenditures of other funds. The California School Accounting Manual provides for the uniform classification of expenditures which is consistent for the several funds.

Expenditures are presented in terms of object of expenditure. Object classifications are for the most part self-explanatory, such as "teachers' salaries," "textbooks," or "pupil transportation supplies." The seven major object of expenditure classifications that public school agencies must account for are (1) 1000-Certificated Salaries; (2) 2000-Classified Salaries; (3) 3000-Employee Benefits; (4) 4000-Books and Supplies; (5) 5000-Services and Other Operating Expenditures; (6) 6000-Capital Outlay; and (7) 7000-Other Outgo. The tables in Part III present dollar amounts for the several objects of expenditure, the amount per unit of average daily attendance, and the percent of total expenditures each amount represents.

California's ranking, in comparison to other states, on measures of "expenditures per pupil" has become a topic of some interest in recent years. This issue is sometimes confused by differing definitions of "current expense," and Table III-13 attempts to avoid this confusion by providing the three major definitions used in discussions of California. There are two nationwide agencies that collect this information and compute rankings, and the definitions used by these agencies are shown along with a statutorily defined "current expense," which is unique to California. The California definition is the most limited of the three, and its statutory definition may be found in Section 41372 of the Education Code. This definition is used uniformly throughout California but does not necessarily conform to definitions used in other states. To make national comparisons, one must use one of the definitions of the nationwide ranking agencies. The National Center for Education Statistics (NCES) incorporates all of the expenditures in the California definition and then adds other local expenditure items as shown. The National Education Association (NEA) Research Division disregards certain NCES exclusions but then adds certain statewide expenditures that cannot be related to particular school districts. Because of these statewide expenses, current expense per pupil cannot be calculated for individual school districts using the NEA definition. Current expense can be calculated for individual districts under the state and NCES definitions, and the results of these calculations are shown in Part V. It should be noted that expenditures take time to record, verify, and compute in "final" form. It generally takes several months after the end of a fiscal year to "close the books" and make any audit adjustments. Because ranking comparisons must be current to be useful to policymakers, many reported rankings are based upon estimates of expenditures that are frequently prepared before the year is actually ended and all of the expenditures actually made. These estimates can be useful, but it should always be understood that they are "subject to change." This edition of Selected Financial and Related Data contains expenditures for no year later than 1984-85. This information was reported as "actual" after the books were closed but before audit adjustments, if any, were made.

Notes:

"Current Expense of Education" includes expenditures of the following classifications as defined in the California School Accounting Manual: 1000-Certificated Salaries; 2000-Classified Salaries; 3000-Employee Benefits; 4000-Books and Supplies; 5000-Services and Other Operating Expenditures; and 6500-Equipment Replacement. Expenditures for the following programs are excluded from the preceding classifications: Food Services, Community Services, Fringe Benefits for Retired Persons, and Facilities Acquisition and Construction.

"Total Expense of Education" includes expenditure classifications 1000 - 5000 as defined above plus classification 6000, Capital Outlay. The exclusions listed for the "current expense" definition above are not excluded from this definition, but only general fund expenditures are shown.

Figures for 1959-60 and 1969-70 include community college districts, which slightly inflates "All Districts" expenditures per ada for those years.

PART IV

SPECIAL EDUCATION MASTER PLAN

The tables in Part IV present general data on special education funds from the onset of Master Plan in 1980-81 through the 1984-85 fiscal year. In the base year, each reporting entity received support services ratios, local general fund contributions, and unit rates, as appropriate, according to the reported data and calculations specified in law. Those entities coming into special education after the base year received the statewide averages of the support services ratios and unit rates. Due to the abundance of data, most of these tables will report statewide averages.

Table IV-1 shows the total calculated (net) entitlements, the appropriation amounts, deficit amounts, deficiency appropriations and remaining deficits. In the 1980-81 fiscal year, transportation and regionalized services were included in the instructional program entitlements. From 1981-82 through 1983-84 transportation had separate entitlement programs. In the 1984-85 fiscal year, special education transportation was consolidated into the regular transportation funding mechanism.

Table IV-2 shows the Unduplicated Pupil Counts by setting, the number of funded units, and the statewide average loading per unit.

Tables IV-3 through IV-5 report the statewide average unit rates (with cost of living adjustments), support services ratios, and local general fund contributions per unit of average daily attendance.

Part V
School District Summary Data

Part V includes information related to individual active school districts in California. In the first edition of Selected Financial and Related Data, this information was presented in Table III-8.

It is natural to want to compare individual district data, but the reader should be cautioned that the diversity of California education makes valid comparison of these numbers extremely difficult. Small school districts, for example, are frequently situated in remote geographical locations with high transportation and utility costs, compounded by adverse weather conditions. Great variations in expenditure patterns may result from the unique programs of districts, regardless of size; and for these reasons, we strongly advise those who would compare expenditures to take the time necessary to understand these differences.

All of the information presented in Part V was collected for the 1984-85 school year. Average daily attendance (ADA) figures are from the "annual" report (not computational ADA) and do not include classes for adults or county operated programs. For these reasons, the ADA shown here is not comparable to ADA reported in other tables in this document. For definitions of the current expenditure figures shown here, the reader should consult Table III-13.
